

Wartburg Looks Ahead

LUTHER HALL will look something like this when the proposed chapel-auditorium is added. Bids will be let this fall for the complicated structure.

Proposed addition to campus life will seat about 1,300.

National Merit Scholar Enrolled At Wartburg

Wartburg College is again one of the nation's colleges or universities selected by the National Merit Scholars among June high school graduates.

Margretha Radloff, 1958 graduate of Bird City (Kan.) Rural High School, was honored this spring by being selected as a 1958 Merit Scholar. Miss Radloff was salutatorian of her high school graduating class and participated in band, Pep Club, annual staff and Future Home-makers of America. She was elected class vice president in her sophomore year, as well as being chosen Student Council president in her junior year. Education will be her major field of study at Wartburg.

In addition to Margretha a 1958 Merit Scholar, 1957 Merit Scholars now attending Wartburg are Dave Grube (National Merit Scholarship) of Waverly, Bruce Bergquist (Sears Foundation Merit Scholar) of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Bill Goetz (General Foods Fund Merit Scholar) of Tripoli, transferred from the University of Chicago. These three had an average grade point in their first year of college of 3.76.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

Reents Learns Much From New Guinea

By Grace Jahn

Death is a word not popular among young people. But three near scrapes with that five-letter noun rewarded Wartburg senior Jack Reents with probably the richest spiritual experiences of his young life.

"I was in three car accidents in the summer of '55, was nearly killed in each, but managed to come out without a scratch. It was then I knew there was something I had to do," explained Reents.

Fortunately for Jack, he attended the 12th International Luther League Convention in late August of that same year. When the call came for volunteer workers in New Guinea, Jack, who had always been interested in missions, talked to Dr. Marcus Rieke, youth director of the American Lutheran Church, and decided that he would volunteer two years of his life for New Guinea missions.

In August of 1956, when Jack left for the mission field, he had completed his junior year at Wartburg. Many students undoubtedly remember him as a football letterman with side interests in the sports of basketball and baseball, while enjoying membership in the W Club and serving on the Intramural Committee. Jack's athletic interests were balanced by his active participation in Chi Rho, Mission Fellowship and Castle Singers.

A team of six left for New Guinea by ship from San Francisco two years ago. Their course wasn't direct, but took them on a short tour of the South Pacific.

"We stopped at Honolulu, Hawaii; Suva, Fiji; Auckland, New Zealand; and Sidney, Australia," Reents enumerated.

The stop at Sidney included registration because New Guinea, a United Nations protectorate, is mandated to Australia.

From Sidney, the mission building team flew to Brisbane, Australia; then to Port Moresby, New Guinea, and finally arrived at Lae, mission headquarters. The mission ship then took them to Finschhafen.

"They didn't tell us where we were going," said Reents.

In addition to not knowing their exact destination, the six member team left for New Guinea without any orientation to the way of life which was to greet them. Two of their problems included becoming accustomed to the humidity and slower way of life.

One of the group was drafted to a teaching position, while the remaining five took up the construction work on the native seminary started by the previous mission building team.

Although Jack had had previous construction experience, he had to adopt new building techniques in New Guinea. The buildings were frame with metal roofs, built off the ground on cement to keep out the white ants, or termites. Constructions had to be braced against earthquakes, and the average precipitation of 200 inches a year had to be considered.

Jack's New Guinea experience wasn't all physical labor, however.

"If I did any evangelistic work at all, it was through the Scout troop and Luther League," commented Reents.

Besides helping to organize a Luther League, Reents served as a Scoutmaster in an area with approximately three hundred Boy Scouts.

It was with some of these Scouts and a patrol officer last Christmas that Reents took one of his three trips in New

Council Convened Thursday

Alumnus Heads LSA

David Kruger of Waverly, former Wartburg student, was recently elected president of the Lutheran Student Association of America at sessions of the National Council in Parkland, Wash.

Wartburg Enrollment Covers Wide Area

Students from 19 different states in the union are attending Wartburg this year. In addition, three foreign countries are represented among Knights—Tanganyika, Hong Kong and Germany.

States represented and the number of students from each are: Iowa-477; Wisconsin-125; Minnesota-92; Illinois-84; South Dakota-27; North Dakota-29; Nebraska-36; Ohio-2; Oklahoma-4; New York-2; Colorado-5; Michigan-13; Kansas-13; California-13; and Montana-1.

This makes the total number of full-time students 928. Part-time students number 32, plus 13 students from the Radar Base.

The freshman class leads the entire group with 392. Sophomores number 234, juniors 165 and seniors 137.

Upperclasses Fill Additional Posts

Juniors and seniors completed naming class officers at elections held this week. Senior president Duane Matz and junior proxy Norm Litzner were elected last spring.

Gary Hummel, vice president; Lorraine Johnson, secretary; and Joel Diemer, treasurer, round out the junior slate of officers. They were elected at a class meeting Thursday night.

Seniors selected Ronald Pfohl as vice president, Ruth Juilfs as secretary and John Meyer as treasurer at their meeting Wednesday. Miss Erna Moehl, English Department, and Robert Smith, English and Speech Departments, were chosen class sponsors.

Frosh Elect Officers

Arthur Baker of Waterloo was elected president of the freshman class at its first official meeting Monday night.

Completing the slate of officers are Darwin Bunker of Waverly, vice president; Winnie Wandersee of Minneapolis, secretary; and Larry Bloomquist of Pocahontas, treasurer.

Freshman senators are Ronald Bencke, Pearce Konold and Bonnie Lambert. Allen Snook was chosen Homecoming float chairman.

Three-Way Plans Discussed By Group

Third semi-annual meeting of the Wartburg Development Council was held in Fuchs Lounge Thursday, Sept. 25.

Merle Parr, president of the Iowa Public Service Co. of Waterloo was elected chairman of the Council. He is also head of the newly formed Executive Committee.

Others voted to this committee are Gordon Yock, Clara City, Minn., and H. M. Vowers, Kimball, Neb.

Group Sees Needs
Purpose of the group is to bring representative businessmen from Waverly and other areas together in order to acquaint them with the program here at Wartburg and the problems which confront Christian higher education. Its purpose is to give counsel regarding the manner in which Wartburg can more effectively serve business and industry.

In the morning the group attended convocation, after which the members were present at the laying of the cornerstone for the new library.

Thompson Speaks

On the afternoon agenda, Fred Thompson, Wartburg admissions director, presented the thought "How Wartburg can better serve business and industry by conducting various clinics." This idea, to explore the possibility of a personnel management clinic sometime in the near future, met with group approval.

Balance of the meeting was spent discussing the Three-Way Development Fund, after the subject had been presented by the Rev. Martin Ackermann, development director, and Pres. C.H. Becker. Their discussion also covered the purpose of the Three-Way Fund and how to remove the obligation for Clinton Hall, the library and the chapel-auditorium by 1960.

National Prayer Day Planned For October

Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower has proclaimed Wednesday, Oct. 1, as a National Day of Prayer. During the past few years, the first Wednesday of October has been set aside for this purpose by presidential proclamation.

In accordance with this, special chapel services will be held at 6:15 and at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday, with the Rev. August Baetke as speaker.

Convo Schedule Builders, Editor

Tuesday's convo will feature a devotional program put on by the Parish Mission Builders now attending Wartburg. The speaker will be Glen Gronlund, first vice president of the International Luther League of the American Lutheran church and a former Parish Mission Builder.

Kenneth MacDonald, editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, will speak in Thursday's convo.

His topic will cover the general category of leadership, but especially the puzzling and disturbing lack of that characteristic in the United States, according to the noted journalist.

SOUVENIRS BRING back rich memories to Wartburg Senior Jack Reents, after spending two years in New Guinea as a mission builder.

Guinea — a mountain-climbing expedition which took the group over ranges of 7,000 to 9,000 feet.

The highest peak of the Sarawage range, some 13,400 feet, was conquered by the expedition, and its members camped on the peak to wait for clearer weather in which to take pictures. Although they were only six degrees south of the equator, the weather turned cold, and the Scouts, who were coastal boys who had never seen ice, were ready and anxious to start back.

Another of Reents' trips was a school inspection tour taken with a missionary during which they walked approximately 130 miles, and covered another 90 miles by canoe.

A third excursion took Jack 350 miles inland to the frontier of mission work. This was the only time he was ever in any danger.

"The natives threatened hostility, but fortunately nothing came of it," he explained.

Although their two years had not quite expired, five members of the team left last July to return in time for this school year, while one of the group chose to remain another year. Another one of the mission builders, Bill Schroeder, has transferred to Wartburg as a sophomore this year from Huron College, Huron, S.D.

When asked about differences noticed in the United States after his two years of absence, Reents commented, "The only difference I noticed when I got back was the sack dresses!"

Although Jack is happy to be back at Wartburg, he plans to return to New Guinea as a missionary after graduation from the Seminary. He knows now that those two years of his life, freely given, fulfilled the need experienced in the summer of 1955 when three times he nearly knocked on death's door.

Here Lies Outfly

John Annual Outfly passed away Sept. 23 after an extended illness.

He was believed to be about seventy years old, although exact records of his birthdate are not available. Mr. Outfly had been in failing health for the last two years. Doctors traced his death to population (a rapid enlargement of the heart) and a receding lack of spontaneity.

A medical report showed that he suffered near complete paralysis in lower limbs (Snake Dance) during his last hours Tuesday.

Mr. Outfly had been an active member of the Wartburg College program for several decades, appearing twice a year as its favorite tradition. For a long time he was as much a part of life at Wartburg as an evening chapel service.

For many years Mr. Outfly was regarded as the climax to formal Freshman Initiation in the fall. He would then reappear in about seven and one-half months to give the whole campus a vacation when the grass turned green.

He is survived by only a few other traditional customs, which include Christmas-at-Wartburg, Homecoming and the occasional sight of a green beanie at present.

Burial for one of the oldest and grandest of Wartburg traditions will be announced later by officials.

A replacement to fill the coveted shoes of Mr. Outfly should be named in the near future, but only after careful consideration and modification of his position by responsible members.

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Lighthouse Shows Way; Why Not Follow Example?

By Howard Schroeder

There is at least one lighthouse in the world that is not placed on any mariner's chart. Out on the Arizona desert, there is a well of fresh water — the only place where water can be found for 45 miles to the east and 30 miles in any other direction.

On a tall cottonwood pole which stands by the well, a lantern is hoisted every night. The light can be seen for miles across the plain. This lighthouse performs a mission in its small but important way.

If from our lives, no matter how small, there is hoisted a light that shines out over the world to lighten the way of the thirsty, no light shall shine but lights some soul to Christ, the Fountain.

This illustration might lend itself well to analogies other than the one I have specified; the others, I leave to your own thought and meditation. I would like to bring to mind this fact in particular: It is easy in our busy college schedules to put our spiritual life out of mind, to "let it slide." We say we have come here to prepare for a future vocation, and while we're here we have to make the best of it. This is true, but what does Christ have to say?

"Men do not light a lamp . . . to put it under a bushel." Christ also commands us to "Let your light so shine . . ." So we must give our spiritual lives some air. Don't stifle your spirituality under a bushel basket of indifference and self-interest.

This institution offers many opportunities to "air" our spiritual lives. God expects you to prepare your soul and the souls of others for the future.

No matter how small the expression of our faith, or how large, it is part of our lives as Christians. Remember, "To whom much is given, much shall be expected."

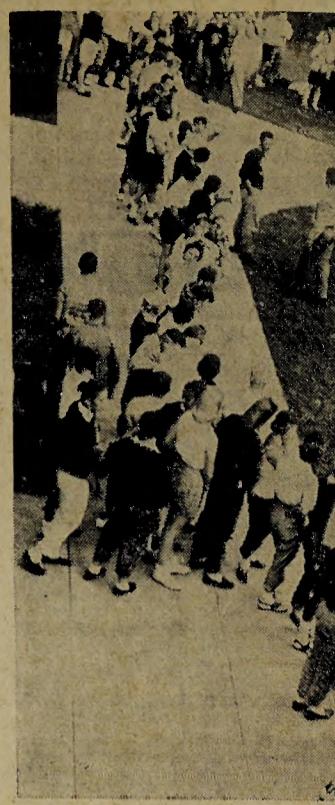

Now, "Let your light so shine . . ."

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

"Be original." This is the battle cry of our dear editor-in-chief. After only two weeks of column writing, I find that he has a legitimate complaint. I have a valid excuse for my lack of originality. After all, I am not 210 lbs. and I don't live in Vollmer House.

GOOD LUCK, TEAM

The expected did happen after all—it did rain on Outfly. No one complained, however. It seems some prefer a "wet" Outfly.

After spending two days in the rack with a virus bug, I am pleased to inform you that the Student Health Service is in operation again this year. If you feel ill, don't hesitate to call the nurse. There are enough aspirin to go around. Where would we be without the cure-all-Wartburg aspirin?

GOOD LUCK, TEAM

Here's a hot one! Soph Jane Becker was elected fire marshal of Wartburg Hall.

I feel obligated to take up where Bob Loslo left off last year. So how about having the Wednesday night pizza parties again this year? Not in the cafe but in the Den. Just thought I would make that clear.

When I was a freshman, we wore green beanies until Homecoming — not just until Outfly. How about it, sophomores? Let's get the frosh on the ball.

GOOD LUCK, TEAM

Flashy! Flashy! Hear this, all guppie lovers. Senior Neva Miller reports another batch of those darling little dears are on their way.

At last the key to the impossible "A" on a Rev. Schick test has been found. Throw away the textbook and buy the latest copy of Pogo. It just goes to show that you can never tell about a faculty member until he speaks at convocation.

The reason for the large mob in the Union recreation room every noon is that Jim Adix is competing for the Willie Hoppe Scholarship. Take a tip, frosh. Forget the recreation room and try the library instead.

Good Knight-Living To All

Wartburg Extends Sympathy

During the past week two members of the Wartburg family have stood by the open graves of loved ones.

On Sept. 20, Miss Marilyn Lundell, a member of the Wartburg English Department, was called home to attend the funeral of her uncle. During the weekend, her father died suddenly of a heart attack.

Dr. Orin Grube, alumnus of Wartburg and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grube of Waverly, died at the State University of Iowa Hospital last week. Mrs. Grube is manager of both the cafeteria and college Den here.

Wartburg extends its deepest sympathy to both bereaved families.

Jomen Seek Initial Victory Tonight

By Gary Beckner

Wartburg Knights will be going for their first football win of the 1958 season when they meet Parsons in Fairfield tonight at 7:30. The Knights were held to a 6-6 tie by the Luther Norsemen last Saturday afternoon in Schield Stadium.

Coach Norm Johansen's grididers worked mostly on offense this week after a weak showing in that department Saturday. Johansen said that the offense had been expected to be the Knights' strong point, but the defense surprisingly turned out to be the stronger. Johansen singled out safety Chuck Nichol for his tremendous defensive job.

Knights At Full Power

Knights came out of the Luther struggle unscathed except for the usual bumps and bruises and are expected to be in full strength for tonight's game.

Freshman Lowell Junkman turned in the most dramatic play of the game Saturday by picking a Luther pass out of the air and racing 85 yards for Wartburg's only touchdown.

Wyngarden Has Yardage

Sophomore halfback Tom Van Wyngarden led the Knight ground attack with 34 yards in five carries. All-conference fullback Brad Hustad led the Norsemen with 87 yards in 27 attempts.

Wartburg broke a 13-game losing streak by defeating Parsons in the 1957 season opener 19-0.

Coach Johansen stated that he feels that Parsons is a better ball club than it was last week and he expects it to bounce back and make it rough for the Knights.

Lineup Nearly Same

The tentative starting lineup for tonight's game will probably be the same as last week. Larry Collman will be at center, Jim Arjes and Don Sahling at the guard spots, Jack Reents and Ron Krueger at the tackles and Ray Boyens and Wayne Dreier at the ends.

Marv Ott will operate at the quarterback slot with Dave Jensen and Tom Van Wyngarden at the halfback posts and Larry Raper at fullback.

Wartburg cross-country team traveled to Grinnell last Saturday only to find that it was second best, as Grinnell came up with 17 points to Wartburg's 48.

Don Dietzler was the first to cross the finish line for Wartburg, as he took fourth-place honors. Garry Moody copped seventh-place, and Bob Boettcher, Rod Hubbard and Gerald Hoffner came in 10th, 11th and 12th respectively.

Today's meet with Dubuque was canceled because Dubuque could not supply a sufficient number of runners.

Sisters Enjoy New Jobs

By Jean Zell

"I wonder where the dustpan is?" "Why can't we shake the rugs out the window?" "How do you operate this phone?" "Do you have some change for the pop machine?"

These are all common questions asked by residents of Grossmann and Clinton Halls. The men may always turn to one dependable person, the housemother.

Mrs. Lydia Miller and Mrs. Augusta Allenstein, housemothers at Grossmann and Clinton Halls, respectively, are there to provide answers and solutions to whatever questions or situations may arise.

The housemothers, who are sisters, each commented, "I am very proud of my boys." They also commended the respect the men have shown them.

The "mothers" are both from Iowa. Mrs. Miller, before coming to Wartburg, was a resident of Cedar Rapids. She was formerly employed as a clerk in Craemer's Department Store there. Mrs. Allenstein comes to Wartburg from Manchester. Preceding her appointment to Clinton Hall, she was employed as a clerk at Becker's Shoe Store in Manchester.

Family life has played an important part in each woman's life. Mrs. Miller has a daughter and son, both married. Mrs. Allenstein also has a daughter and a son. Her daughter attended Wartburg College one year and her son is a graduate of Wartburg in the class of 1953.

Being a "housemother" is a position with many responsibilities and experiences. For the boys, having an older person upon whom they may depend gives them a feeling of security and a "bit of home."

HOUSE MOTHERS of two men's dorms, Mrs. Allenstein and Mrs. Miller, get together in new Clinton Hall lounge where Mrs. Allenstein resides.

Schield Bantam Gives To Iowa Foundation

Wartburg College will receive a share of $6,300 given to the Iowa College Foundation by the Schield Bantam Company, Waverly. The donation was announced Thursday.

Each of the 21 private colleges and universities belonging to the Iowa College Foundation will get $300. According to Schield Bantam stipulation, the money will be awarded to eligible junior students, who will apply it to expenses of their senior year.

Homecoming Plans Firmly Founded

"Firm Foundations" is the theme selected for Wartburg's 1958 Homecoming celebration, set for Oct. 24, 25 and 26. Slogan for the Homecoming game, which pits the Wartburg Knights against the Iowa Wesleyan Tigers, is "Tame the Tigers."

Slated for Homecoming are Kastle Kapers, pep rally and bonfire, parade, football game, banquet, ball, worship services, queen's reception and Artist Series. Dedication of Clinton Hall will be a highlight of the festivities, according to senior Paul Fuchs, general Homecoming chairman.

Tripping With The Trio

We, the veterans of Outfly, bring you bubbles from the bottom of the fishpond. Congratulations, freshmen! You have survived initiation with flying colors. Too bad we can't say the same for the sophomores. Send all get-well cards to First Floor, Rooms 102 and 105, Wartburg Hall.

Today the football team travels with "handsome" Larry Collman to Parsons. Our traveling football players will perform at 7:30 p.m. If you can't attend this spectacular event, the Hay Ride promises a show of its own.

Starting time is 7:15 p.m.

"Swing your partner," or "check your mate" this Friday, Oct. 3. There will be room for more than "30 love" on the tennis court at 8 p.m. If you like smaller squares and want to call your own, there will be a chess exhibition in the cafeteria.

Will the freshman "boy" with the blue Ford convertible realize that Wartburg College has provided roads on which to operate motor vehicles? The lawn in front of Centennial Hall is used for other activities.

• • •
President Eisenhower has proclaimed the first Wednesday of October as National Day of Prayer. We will observe it at a special chapel service featuring the Rev. August Baetke.

At last it's here! WAA will indulge in a picnic at Riverside Park, Oct. 1, 7:30 p.m. There will be no riverbanking for obvious reasons.

Speaking of indulging . . . the Trumpet will have a staff meeting Monday, Sept. 29, 7 p.m. at the Pub House. This will be a short meeting, the editor promises.

• • •
Will all clubs please turn in Homecoming chairman names to Dave Grube as soon as possible? And will Vollmer House please get its clown suits pressed?

Who knows what evils lurk in the halls of Clinton? We Three Coeds wish we did.
